The District’s Stay-At-Home Order is extended through June 8, 2020.
A pilot granting waivers to educational and academic retail shops to do curbside and front door pickup.

- No customers inside the stores
- Will start with locally owned businesses spread out across DC
- Businesses will be required to share data about sales, hours, how they adjusted operations, and what worked and what didn’t

When the time comes to reopen, we want to help our local businesses succeed. Through this pilot, we can work together to learn important lessons while ensuring safe operations.

Applications open Friday, May 15.
...there is a real risk that you will trigger an outbreak that you may not be able to control. Which, in fact, paradoxically will set you back, not only leading to some suffering and death that could be avoided, but could even set you back on the road to trying to get economic recovery.

- Dr. Fauci on reopening too soon
STAY HOME,
BUT WHEN YOU GO OUT, WEAR A MASK.

If you feel sick, call your doctor or a testing hotline.

If you have tested positive for COVID-19, isolate yourself.

Beginning today, District residents participating in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) may use their Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) card to buy groceries through Amazon.com.

To use SNAP benefits on Amazon.com, visit www.Amazon.com/snap-ebt

We urge the Senate to support this important measure, and the Administration to see it through so that DC can invest in health, opportunity, prosperity, and equity when we reopen.

THANK YOU,
Speaker Pelosi, Leader Hoyer, and Congresswoman Norton
